Police considering tentative contract

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A tentative agreement for a two-year contract was reached between the city's negotiating team and the policemen's union Wednesday night.

Brett Hanke, chairman of the negotiating team, said the meeting came out better than he expected.

"BOTH SIDES came a long way," he said. "I'm pleased with the results."

But Officer Jeff Parker, shop steward for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said he was not optimistic about the agreement being accepted.

"Tentative is the correct word for the agreement," he said. "I don't think it's going to fly."

Parker said the "sticking point" of the whole contract is new wording on the structure of salaries for new employees.

"THEY'RE TRYING to take our longevity away," he said. "I don't think some of the guys will go along with it because we've got an obligation to protect the new guys."

Parker said the longevity is a percentage that is multiplied towards the base rate of a policeman. The percentage size is based on the number of years a worker has been on the job.

Hanke said the city is offering the policemen a wage increase in exchange for some "increased efficiency." He would not disclose the amount of the increase or what fringe benefits were being negotiated.

THE LAST CONTRACT that was signed with the policemen dealt with the period between May 1983 and May 1984. A clause in that contract allows it to extend until a new agreement is negotiated, Hanke said.

Parker said his union will vote on the new contract Monday night.

Thus far, the city has had formal meetings with members of the unions for the fire department, street department and City Hall workers. There have been no formal meetings with the sewage treatment plant union.

Lahr question moot

By BILL MILLIGAN
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Questions concerning the legality of Ruth Lahr's participation on the District 9 School Board were declared a moot point by Illinois Attorney General Neil Hartigan's staff last week.

Lahr was defeated in November 1983 in her attempt to win a second term on the board. Because she did not win the election, the attorney general's office did not issue an opinion.

"THE ELECTION came and went; because she did not win, we assumed the question was of less importance," said Jerry Owens, administrative assistant to Hartigan.

"This is a grey area," Owens said. "It would have taken a lot of research into case law in Illinois and other states in order to issue an opinion."

Bob Crider of Granite City asked Madison County State's Attorney Dick Allen to seek to remove Lahr's name from the ballot.

Crider claimed Lahr's position on the board created a conflict of interest because she was receiving retirement benefits from the district.

LAHR RETIRED from the district in June 1983 after serving as director of the district's Chapter 1 education program since 1971. Previously, she was a teacher in the district. She was elected to the board in November 1983 for a two-year term.

Crider presented Allen's office with a petition to try to remove Lahr's name from the ballot. Crider said "about 15" other people had signed the petition when he read it to the school board on Sept. 3, 1985.

"I can see why the attorney general would not want to devote what time on the question," said Jerry Glaub, public relations representative with the Illinois Association of School Boards.

"I'VE NEVER HEARD this issue raised before. I have no idea if anybody else in the state would be affected by it," Glaub said.

Petitioners hope to save revenue sharing

NAMEOKI — Township residents may soon be asked to sign a petition to urge saving the federal general revenue sharing program.

The Nameoki Town Board of Trustees voted Monday to draw up petitions, circulate them among precincts within the township and then send them to U.S. Rep. Mel Price and Sens. Alan Dixon and Paul Simon.

THE REVENUE SHARING program is to be eliminated Sept.-30. Township Supervisor Harry Briggs said. A poll taken in Congress and the Senate showed Dixon favored retaining the program, while Price and Simon were uncommitted.

Briggs hopes to obtain 10,000 signatures supporting revenue sharing.

"If we don't scream, we won't be heard. And we can't whisper. We've got to scream," Briggs said.

"It's (revenue sharing) vital to these areas down here," he said. TOWNSHIP RESIDENTS also will be asked to write their congressman and senators, Briggs said. People should tell how revenue sharing money has been spent and why residents are dependent on those programs.

"We'll miss the money. The people will miss the money," Briggs said. The township budgeted $66,000 for its revenue sharing fund this year (March 1, 1985, to Feb. 28, 1986).

THE APPROPRIATIONS included a $20,000 transfer to the road district. The transfer was approved during the annual town meeting, and $5,000 was to be used to purchase a tandem truck. The remaining $24,000 is used for hauling away large household items for residents.

Another $7,000 was appropriated for health programs, $6,000 for ad-

Post office sought

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

PONTON BEACH — A post office and zip code for Pontoon Beach would be more than a convenience.

It would ensure the village is receiving all its utility taxes on telephone service, according to Trustee Lou Whitsell.

BECAUSE PONTON Beach residents share the Granite City postal district and zip code, some of the village's utility taxes may be credited to Granite City, which also has a utility tax.

"The phone company (Illinois Bell) has no idea if you live in Pontoon Beach or Granite City, only if they're told," Whitsell said. "It's costing the village money and there's confusion, too."

The village has been trying to get its own post office and zip code for several years.

THE MOST RECENT attempt was made last September when village officials contacted Granite City Postmaster Larry Wood.

Wood forwarded the village's request for a contract postal unit in the village hall to Gene Childers, director of customer service in Carbondale.

"We had several conversations with the postmaster in Granite City," Village Clerk Mary Warren said. "We had a meeting with him, and he said they (postal officials) would send someone out to talk with us."

"WE NEVER saw anyone. The next thing we knew, we got a letter stating we were getting adequate service from Granite City," Warren said.

Officials at the U.S. Postal Service headquarters in Washington, D.C., decide whether new post offices should be established, Childers said this week. Requests are forwarded through Childers' office.

The main considerations, he said, are service and cost.

Swansea, a city of 5,000 to 6,000 people on the border of Belleville, has been trying to get a post office for a year now, he said. Swansea is about a mile from the Belleville Post Office on West Main.

THOUGH PONTON Beach residents have to travel into Granite City to visit a post office, the postal carriers do have stamps with them for purchase, Childers said.

Postal districts are not based on corporate boundaries, he added.

"We can't deliver by corporate boundaries because they change every time you turn around," he said. "It costs us a lot of time and money to go back and change the way we deliver mail."

CHILDERS WAS never personally contacted by Pontoon Beach officials, he said. The inquiries were made through Wood.

As for meeting with village officials, Childers said investigators have been dispatched in other cases.

"They will meet with city fathers and discuss what they (postal officials) could offer versus what they (city fathers) want. I don't believe it's been done in Pontoon Beach, yet," he said.

GLEN WILSON, Pontoon Beach Village Board president, is "willing to try anything."

"I thought we had the contract post office," he said. Wilson's main interest is a separate zip code for Pontoon Beach because some utility taxes have been lost to Granite City.

"WE NEED to be separate from Granite City in that respect," he said. "I think we're big enough and growing."

Office changes woman's life

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

Her life changed when she stopped working long hours for other candidates and decided to work for herself instead.

The change was for the better, said Judy Whitaker, one of two women serving on the 14-member Granite City Council.

"I love my life now because I like to be busy," she said.

Sunday focus

Her husband, Walt, a wrestling coach at the high school, used to be the one with the hectic schedule.

"Now Walt and I just see each other coming and going," she said. "I used to always ask him if I was going to see him at home that night, but now he asks me if he'll see me."

Whitaker said it was her husband who first pushed her to run for office.

"Someone came to my door and asked me if I would like to work for a certain candidate in the election," she said. "I said I'd have to think about it."

Her husband suggested that she work for her own election instead.

"I had to promise my family I'd keep my temper," she said. "That promise has been hard to keep."

But Whitaker is somewhat disillusioned since being elected last April.

"The City Council doesn't work together very well. I don't like the fighting and the bickering that goes on."

But things are changing.

"I can see some progress," she said. "But this is a big town — there's a lot of work that needs to be done."

The politics involved in her job make her uncomfortable.

In September, Whitaker was told to vote for a certain candidate in the Granite City School Board election or else her husband would lose his job, as reported in The Press-Record/Journal.

"I found out there are all types of political pressures applied to persons in my position," she said.

She's even uncomfortable with being called a politician.

To me a politician is a wheeler-dealer," she said. "I don't feel like that — I'm just a worker for the people."

A mother of two children, Whitaker said the support her family has given her in the last nine months has helped.

"My kids think it's great their being in office," Whitaker said. "Usually the mother is the one that's proud of the kids but this time it's the other way around."

Walt also has been supportive.

"He waits for me to come home from my meetings and then he asks me what happens," she said. "We get along really well."

Since taking office, her biggest effort has been to push for a town cleanup.

"I'm a fanatic about cleanliness," she said.

To see that the work is being done, Whitaker rode several times with the sanitation and street departments to see that trash, rats and junk cars are being disposed of properly.

"The departments are doing a good job and they're working together to get things cleaned up," she said. "Some people criticize the

Trojans, Devils are winners

VENICE — The rematch wasn't even close.

The Red Devils avenged an earlier season loss to Metro East Lutheran of Edwardsville Friday night in an Illini-Gateway basketball game.

Venice walked off the Knights 82-59. Ed Ware poured in 33 points, grabbed 10 rebounds and five steals as three Venice players cracked double figures.

Jesse Hall added 27 points and 15 rebounds. Judicious Kizeart added 10 for the Devils.

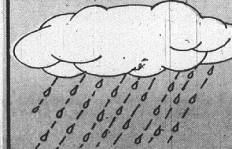

Madison cracked the 100-point barrier as the Trojans crushed St. Paul 110-73.

Embassy officials lie

WASHINGTON — Like their Soviet mentors, the Sandinistas who rule Nicaragua evidently believe in a simple expedient when caught in an embarrassing situation: lie.

When we presented evidence, gleaned from cables to the State Department from the U.S. Embassy in Managua, that Nicaraguan employees of the embassy had been harassed and threatened with death by the Sandinista secret police, the Nicaraguan Embassy in Washington issued a flat denial.

Point by point, the embassy's written response contradicted our evidence that the local employees had been threatened, abused and subjected to long hours of interrogation.

Then the Sandinistas went one step further: They said an American Embassy official, Bradley Johnson, would confirm their story. We don't know whether to admire the Nicaraguans for their nerve or pity them for their foolishness — because their purported reliance on Johnson was a gigantic bluff.

They knew that Johnson was vacationing in the United States, and apparently they thought we wouldn't bother pursuing him or the story — once we had noted their denial. But we called their bluff and tracked down Johnson. The Nicaraguans turned out to have nothing but a four-flush.

"They're lying," Johnson told our associate Lucette Lagnado.

He contradicted absolutely the Nicaraguans' claim that he had accompanied the embassy employees summoned for interrogation and waited for them. The only person he had taken to the police for questioning was "the girl I was dating," a Nicaraguan student who had nothing to do with the embassy.

Even Johnson's description of that single incident would hardly support the Nicaraguan Embassy's pious protestation of innocence. He said his friend was grilled from 8:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m., was accused of being a spy and a traitor and "was told if she saw me she would spend years in prison."

Alarmed by the threats of the secret-police goons, Johnson got his friend out of the country. Diplomatically, he suggested that this incident may have been what led the Sandinistas to believe that he had accompanied the embassy employees called in for interrogation. Johnson can believe it was bureaucratic confusion if he chooses. But with all due respect, we've had too much experience with official pronouncements over the years to take such a charitable view. We think the Nicaraguan Embassy was simply trying to pull a fast one.

Johnson's knowledge of the embassy employees' questioning, gained from talking with several of them afterward, doesn't support the Nicaraguan embassy's claims, either. He told us that none of the employees had been interrogated for only an hour, as the Sandinistas claimed. The shortest interrogations Johnson heard about lasted several hours.

NEW MONEY?: A few years ago, we suggested that the Reagan administration recall all U.S. paper currency in exchange for new bills. The idea has been given serious consideration, and now the only thing holding up the recall, say our sources, is the complexity of the changeover.

The move may seem drastic, but it would offer two multi-billion-dollar benefits:

— It would wipe out the hoarded cash of drug dealers, crime bosses, "underground economy" operators and other tax cheats who have billions of unreported dollars stashed away. They would either have to answer incriminating questions when they turned in the cash, or use their piled-up currency for compost.

— The new currency could be made counterfeit-proof. If we continue to use present currency, the next generation of sophisticated color-copiers will turn out reproductions of such high quality that counterfeiting could become a thriving cottage industry.

A tribute to Christa McAuliffe

Words. The nation searched for words to express its grief over the tragic loss of the space shuttle last week.

A catastrophe, a disaster, a calamity, horrible, devastating... These are just a few of the words that were heard last Tuesday after the space shuttle Challenger burst into a ball of fire moments after its launch.

The joy and pride our nation shares in the space program turned to sorrow 120 seconds after lift-off. It's over. It's gone. Our heroes are now dead.

Why is this accident so different than other setbacks our space program has suffered? Is it because these were not just fabulous astronauts? Is it because this time there was an ordinary citizen on board?

An astronaut is someone we all look up to; someone distant from our everyday lives. Being an astronaut is a goal to reach. We can be proud of our astronauts.

Your views

FRANK HAYNES, 16, is a junior at Granite City High School. He got the idea for this tribute while watching televised accounts of the space shuttle tragedy. He said he was touched by the fact that Christa McAuliffe, one of the seven victims, was a teacher and not a "regular" astronaut.

Astronauts were not the only ones aboard the Challenger last Tuesday. This time, there was a woman, a teacher, a mother on board. We could relate to Christa McAuliffe. She was like someone we see every day.

We can imagine McAuliffe getting tired, trying to find the best buys at a grocery store. We can picture McAuliffe going to church on Sunday, even sometimes cooking a meal unsuccessfully. Children could imagine her as a teacher and mother. Without doubt, she was like someone that each of us knows; perhaps she was like our mothers.

She represented the average American school teacher, mother, friend or relative. She was real. She was one of us.

We weep for her family; we weep for ourselves. We mourn her loss as if we knew her.

If she could do it all over, would she? Most likely. Would any of us go into space tomorrow?

Yes. Life for her goes on through all of us. Life for McAuliffe will go on through each and every person who goes into space from now on. God bless our astronauts. God bless our teachers. God bless us all.

Five, four, three, two, one. Blast off. It was like a dream yesterday; we see it today. We'll experience it tomorrow. The memory of Challenger's flight will be part of us all.

This is my tribute to Mrs. Christa McAuliffe.

Illinois people share sorrow of tragedy

To The Editor: All of Illinois shares in the sorrow of the tragic events of Jan. 28 and we salute the bravery of astronauts past and of those astronauts yet to follow who will venture into space despite the dangers so strikingly brought home in the loss of the Challenger.

The previous week, I proclaimed Jan. 28 - Feb. 1, 1986, as Teacher in Space Recognition Week in Illinois.

In the proclamation message honoring teacher Sharon Christa McAuliffe, I urged all citizens to reflect on the important role of teachers in our educational system — and to show their continuing support for excellence in education by turning their porch "Lights on for Learning."

In light of the tragic events, I urged Illinoisans to turn on their porch lights before the mid-point of the mission. It was rescheduled for 7 p.m. Jan. 29 to 7 a.m. Jan. 30 as a symbolic gesture to the memory of Mrs. McAuliffe and in tribute to her dedication to her profession.

To millions of American students and citizens, she personified educational achievement.

Her memory will serve as a reminder of the great aspirations of American youth. It will remind us that fulfillment of those aspirations will depend on our commitment to educational excellence — a commitment made long ago by Christa McAuliffe.

I salute Christa McAuliffe and all the members of the Challenger crew.

Space shuttle tragedy not program's end

The loss of the seven-person crew of the space shuttle Challenger Jan. 28 is unquestionably a human tragedy — one that has touched peoples of many nations, not just Americans.

The unfortunate accident is also a severe blow to the nation's manned space program. It has been put on hold, for the time being, until the cause of the disaster is investigated and the many questions raised this week are answered.

Also unfortunate were the hasty assessments being made, just hours after Challenger exploded, about the validity of civilians being allowed to travel in the shuttle at this period of the program.

Many comments were made that day, and since, that seem to link the Challenger tragedy with the fact that a civilian teacher was aboard. I think it is safe to say Christa McAuliffe did not cause the explosion and subsequent death of herself and her fellow space explorers.

After seeing the tragic video recording of the launch of Challenger so many times, it is also safe to assume that even if there had been seven professional and highly-trained astronauts aboard, the results would not have been different. There was no time for any reaction that would have brought back the crew safely.

Columnists' club

Statements by some congressmen and senators imply that the civilian aboard was the cause or at least contributed to the cause of the tragedy. Such shortsightedness is unsettling coming from elected leaders of our country.

We all must realize this is not the first time things have gone wrong with a space mission, nor will it be the last, in all likelihood.

I am confident that when the cause of Tuesday's explosion is identified, it will be a problem with this particular shuttle and launch and not a flaw in the engineering of the launch facility.

With 24 previous shuttle launches without any major malfunctions, logic dictates that the problem disaster into our Wednesday paper. Naturally, our stories related to the local relevance of the accident by focusing in on Dr. Alice Purdes of Madison, a Venice-Lincoln Technical Center faculty member.

Purdes was among 11,000 seeking to be the first teacher in space and one of only 250 teachers invited to see a previous launch and meet the chosen teacher. She had also had personal correspondence with the person who achieved the honor, Christa McAuliffe, the New Hampshire wife and mother who was among the seven persons killed in the explosion.

Staff writer Donna Kimbro and which abruptly ended this Challenger mission was peculiar to this particular rocket-orbiter combination, but only time will tell.

NASA has always put "safety first." Some commentary implied this week that public relations surrounding the first teacher in space, the pressure of the shuttle schedule for 1986 — 15 flights in 12 months — and the delays in launching the Columbia shuttle earlier this month might have pushed NASA to get Challenger off the pad before it was ready.

Having followed the space program closely for some 25 years, I find this hard to believe. The safety of all involved is of the utmost importance to NASA. The space agency could not and cannot afford any more problems or failures than already experienced, if the nation's space program is to remain in existence.

The how and why of the most recent tragedy will be answered and other shuttles will be launched again and again until such launches become "routine" to the public's eye.

Space exploration must and will continue and manned flights are of the utmost importance to the space program as a whole.

Christa belongs to the ages

To the Editor: I am thankful to all the members of our community who have expressed concern and relief for my welfare in light of the recent shuttle disaster. I had applied to be the first "teacher in space." Christa McAuliffe was chosen.

The many calls and notes I have received are indeed gratifying. They serve as a reminder that Christa's short shuttle experience was not in vain.

Like many brave pioneers, Christa and the six astronauts now "belong to the ages."

Local coverage of shuttle sparked by tip

The Challenger disaster was as much a shock to this newspaper as to everyone else.

Since we are community-oriented, our concern is narrowly focused on local news. We don't have Associated Press or United Press International machines clicking away in the newsroom with national news. As a result, this newspaper knew nothing about the shuttle incident when it occurred.

Like most Americans, shuttle flights were getting to be rather common. We weren't glued to a television set to watch the launch. We expected another perfect lift-off with the usual scientific, social and economic benefits to be derived.

Then, at about 10:50 a.m. on Tuesday, a Granite City woman called with a news tip. Thanks to her call, we managed to get two stories on the disaster into our Wednesday paper.

Naturally, our stories related to the local relevance of the accident by focusing in on Dr. Alice Purdes of Madison, a Venice-Lincoln Technical Center faculty member. our copy desk chief, Bill Winter, each rapped out a fine story within the 90-minute deadline and the Wednesday paper hit the presses just your front yards with our local angle on the tragedy in less than 18 hours after it happened.

The two stories written under deadline pressure are an accomplishment of which the news staff is proud, but none of it would likely have been possible so quickly had we not gotten the news tip. Such information can be vital to us, as it was in this case.

New bridge, harbor expansion, industrial research park recommended

SPRINGFIELD — Replacement of the Clark Bridge at Alton was listed as one of the top priorities for the St. Louis area in a report issued Jan. 24 by a task force on Southwestern Illinois development appointed by the governor.

The group also is advocating the state buy vacant land along the riverfront in Madison and St. Clair counties for "landbanking" for future development.

EXTENDING INTERSTATE 255 from I-270 to Godfrey and state funding of a proposed marina at the site of the old Lock and Dam 26 at Alton were also endorsed by the task force, but at lower priorities.

The more-than-50-member task force of Madison and St. Clair counties leaders held three meetings in the last four months.

The report focuses entirely on recommending public works or capital projects and does not address such economic development-related points as labor costs or marketing.

FOUR OF THE FIVE bridges across the Mississippi River in this area are inadequate and should get top priority, the task force concluded.

It urged Illinois and Missouri to "maintain the current construction schedule on the (new) Clark Bridge."

The replacement bridge actually has no construction schedule at this time, however, because federal discretionary funds have not yet been obtained, according to Illinois Department of Transportation spokesman Richard Adorjan.

ONLY DESIGN and location work has been done on the bridge. Adorjan said Missouri was the "lead state" in trying to get federal construction money for the new bridge.

Eighty percent of the estimated $60 million cost of the bridge is to come from the federal government, with the two states splitting the remaining 20 percent.

Gov. James Thompson and Missouri Gov. John Ashcroft met in late November and generally agreed to work together to improve bridges in this metropolitan region.

The task force recommended the Martin Luther King Bridge at East St. Louis be given the first priority for rehabilitation and be linked into the Interstate highway system.

AFTER BRIDGES, the second highest priority listed by the task force was the landbanking plan to "coordinate" riverfront development. The task force wants that to be done through a new Southwestern Illinois Development Authority.

Task Force Chairman Ronald Thompson said Friday the group was proposing that undeveloped land be purchased either through direct appropriations by the state to the authority or by issuing new general obligations bonds. He conceded that would likely involve millions of dollars.

He suggested "Build Illinois" funds could be used.

REP. JIM MCPIKE, D-Alton, the Illinois House majority leader and a member of the task force, has already introduced a bill to create a Southwestern Illinois Development Authority, but it would not have any power to issue general obligation bonds. A companion bill for a first year's appropriation of $250,000 has also been filed.

In its third priority grouping, the task force recommended the extension of I-255, still under construction to I-270, northwest to Godfrey, a project which McPike has also been pushing.

The Transportation Department, however, is now doing only a preliminary assessment of the Interstate extension and it is not included in the state's current five-year highway program.

ENDORSEMENT of state funding for the proposed Alton marina was listed in the fourth priority group.

Also in that group is development of a Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville corporate research and headquarters park, which Sen. Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, has been pushing.

More than $1 million to put in utilities for that park has already been allocated in the Build Illinois program.

THE TRI-CITY REGIONAL Port District is included in the fifth priority group in the report.

The recommendation urges state matching assistance for the port authority to expand its harbor facilities.

Other projects fairly high on the task force's wish list are continuing a feasibility study on using Scott Air Force Base for commercial cargo operations and a "stadium feasibility study" for Illinois (by the effort by St. Louis County to construct a new domed sports stadium falls.

Volunteers

CLEAN-UP VOLUNTEER

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program is looking for a man, 60 or older, in Chouteau Township to do general clean-up at the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department.

This would require general cleaning of the office and kitchen areas of the fire station by a person in good physical condition. Janitorial experience would be helpful but is not required. The hours are at your convenience, but the program requires at least four hours a week, strictly daytime hours.

Contact Myrna Kesterson, Retired Senior Volunteer Program, at 876-3223, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. till 4:30 p.m.

VOLUNTEER TEACHER AIDE

The volunteer will assist the teacher as needed in spelling, reading, etc., and also help the teacher in handing out materials to the students. Also, if the volunteer either has computer skills or would like to learn to use the computer to grade papers, this would be helpful.

Hours are 8:30 a.m. through 11 a.m. any day that is convenient to the volunteer.

Interested seniors may contact Myrna Kesterson, Retired Senior Volunteer Program, at 876-3223, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

FRIEND TO YOUTH

Volunteers are needed to share two or three hours a week with a teenager. The volunteer provides recreational and educational activities along with guidance and support as a positive role model. Volunteers receive training to enhance their communicating skills, knowledge of families and understanding of the difficulties surrounding adolescence. ## GC Park District names

Recreation director

By BILL MILLIGAN
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Dave Price had a birthday last week, and he got a big present last night.

By unanimous vote, the Granite City Park Board Wednesday evening named Price, 25, to be its next recreation supervisor.

HE WILL REPLACE John Lakin, who resigned the position Dec. 26, 1985, to take a position with the Madison County Probation Office.

Price, the son of Ralph and Verna Price, 2415 Morrison Road, was hired at an annual salary of $14,000. He was formerly circulation manager with the Southeast Missouri newspaper in Cape Girardeau.

Price's salary will be reviewed May 1 when the district begins a new fiscal year. His employment is contingent upon his relocating to the Park District within six months.

PRICE GRADUATED from Granite City High School North in 1979. He is a 1983 graduate of Southeast Missouri State University, where he served as recreation director for the Southeast Missouri State intercollegiate program.

Price currently works for the Park District as a basketball official. He accepted the new position Wednesday evening.

The board hired Gerrard Alvarado for the job on Jan. 15. Alvarado, who is presently employed by the district as a maintenance person, later declined the post because it would take time away from his family.

Price begins work today.

INSURANCE COVERAGE was discussed at the meeting. Two companies notified the board they would

Three flags stolen from park

GRANITE CITY — The Park District is searching for leads in the theft of three flags last week from poles along its State Street boundary.

Citizens complained flagpoles near the pool were not flying the U.S. flag, so on Jan. 23 employees began raising the flags there once again.

The district raised three flags, a U.S. flag, the Illinois flag and the Granite City flag. The three were flown only during daylight hours.

Anyone with information on the whereabouts of the flags is being urged to contact the Park District at its Wilson Park office.

but that didn't stop someone from taking them last Sunday.

The flags were displayed for three days.

The Granite City flag is believed to be the only one of its type in existence. It was on loan to the district from a private citizen.

Anyone with information on the whereabouts of the flags is being urged to contact the Park District at its Wilson Park office.

The board authorized Kessel to seek bids for a new copying machine and granted permission for the March of Dimes to use Wilson Park as the point of origin for its April 26 Walk America fund-raising event.

In other action, the board granted permission for Madison County to use three sites within the district as polling places for the March 18 primary and Nov. 4 general election.

The board also reduced the youth soccer fee to $100 from $125 this year to conform with baseball entry fees and encourage participation in the program.

The board will begin a review of all positions and the rate of pay for those jobs at its February meeting.

The board named John Mink, currently the district's treasurer, to replace Rea as its registered agent.

Maragides would fight budget cuts

Steve Maragides, 48, Madison, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the 21st District Congressional seat held by incumbent Rep. Melvin Price.

Maragides said that, if elected, he would "work to put an end to the Reagan administration's budget slashing policies, which are an attempt to undo the New Deal."

"Unfortunately, a large part of Congress, even Democrats, are no longer questioning whether the budget needs to be cut. They are merely arguing over where to cut it."

"The Reagan administration is now even looking at the Veterans Administration and VA hospitals with an idea of reducing services there," Maragides said.

"President Reagan has already slashed federal spending enough and, in some cases, too much."

"Congressman Price has been a good congressman, but the incumbent's age and physical condition make it impossible for him to be effective."

Maragides, presently an ad-

'Enter Laughing' next GCHS theater offering

The Speech Department of Granite City High School will present "Enter Laughing" Feb. 6 and 7 in the high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are available from cast members and will be sold at the door for both performances. All seats are $2.

The play will be directed by Gordon Mueller. Technical direction and scenic design are by Deverley Scroggins. Assistants to the director are Ann Guzy and Laura Sullivan, senior at GCHS.

The comedy by Carl Reiner and Joseph Stein takes place in New York City, circa 1938.

It is the account of a stage-struck youth who works as a delivery boy in a sewing machine shop. His parents want him to be a druggist, but he enlists in a hammy, semi-professional company that will put anybody in any play for the right amount. However, he is a dreadful actor and the scene of his first performance is joyously funny.

The role of the stage-struck youth is portrayed by James Drago. Other cast members (in order of their appearances) are:

Board of Realtors support development

Alan Ortbals, director of economic development for the City of Granite City, was main the main speaker. Ortbals explained in-depth the planned redevelopment of the central business district.

A spokesman for the Board of Realtors said positive action on development of the downtown areas is overdue.

Many members of the Board of Realtors said they feel the proposed redevelopment will create a positive chain-reaction of repair and revitalization of the surrounding residential areas.

Absent witnesses worry grand jury

The Madison County state's attorney's office should "give more thought to preparation of cases presented to the grand jury," an outgoing grand jury said in a report made public Jan. 24.

"Insuring that witnesses have been served subpoenas — and that investigation has been completed as much as possible — would provide a more coherent presentation to the grand jury," the report said.

"The purpose of the presentation should be an attempt to result in a decision of a true bill or a no-true bill or, failing this, to provide follow-up as soon as possible," it said.

TWO PROSECUTORS contacted Friday said they share the grand jury's frustration to some extent.

Assistant State's Attorneys Susan Jensen and Randy Massey said the grand jury's concern is primarily related to the failure of subpoenaed witnesses to appear when scheduled.

"There isn't really a whole lot we can do, Massey said. "The grand jury didn't like the delays. I don't like them, either."

Massey said issuance of subpoenas is the state's only method of compelling witnesses to appear. When they do not, they are often found in contempt and issued another subpoena, he said. That, said Massey, usually results in their appearance.

EVEN VICTIMS of alleged offenses often fail to appear, he said.

Massey said the grand jury's concern about investigations that are not complete is also understandable. But he noted that the grand jury has an investigatory function, as well as a charging function.

"In some cases, they are the investigatory body. In those cases, the investigation is necessarily incomplete," he said.

THE GRAND JURY specifically commended Jensen, "whose presentation of evidence and explanation of statutes involved in each case exemplifies the professionalism in the state's attorney's office expected and deserved by the law-abiding citizenry of Madison County," the report said.

The grand jury ended its term and a new grand jury is being sworn in this week.

In another recommendation, the grand jury said county jail trustees ought to be allowed to "contribute to the maintenance of the shelter-care home, which would help to offset maintenance costs of the shelter-care home and provide a useful activity for rehabilitating trustees."

Jail superintendent Jack Fields said the recommendation no doubt was well-intended, but has serious drawbacks.

HE SAID SOME trustees are awaiting trial for serious crimes. Putting them to work outside the jail would entail serious security problems, Fields said.

"If something occurred out there, who would be responsible? I'm afraid the people out there (residents of the home) would be afraid," Fields said.

Even if the program was restricted to prisoners serving sentences for minor offenses, security arrangements would be costly, he said.

The grand jury also concurred with previous grand juries that the shelter-care home should be replaced.

"PRESENT FACILITIES are old and deteriorating rapidly," the report said. "Further, it would be virtually impossible to evacuate inmates from a multi-story building in case of natural disaster or fire."

The panel recommended development of a new, one-story facility at the site of the county's tuberculosis clinic in southern Edwardsville. Savings in energy costs alone would offset a substantial portion of the cost of the new facility, the report said.

A REMINDER FROM THE LAW TODAY

Last year, the Virginia state medical board forced an obstetrician to give up his license after an investigation showed gross negligence and incompetence for two decades. In one instance, this doctor induced labor two weeks early, because he wanted to go on vacation, then smashed the baby's head when he tried to pull it from the womb with forceps. As a result, the child was seriously deformed.

While this doctor's performance history may be unusually bad, the case illustrates the need for a more effective disciplinary system in the medical profession. The work of an incompetent doctor can bring about tragic results. In the absence of a strong disciplinary system for doctors, the only protection the public has lies in its right to bring suit against those doctors who negligence has injured them. Now, because of intense pressure from medical lobbyists, the right to sue and recover damages against doctors has been limited in many states. In those states, which include Illinois, it may well become almost impossible to know if the doctor you have chosen is competent, or to recover damages for the injuries caused to you if he is not.

We will be discussing this and other topics on Tuesday night's program.

Revenue sharing

ministrative salaries, $300 for printing costs, $300 for a tornado warning alarm in Arlington Heights, $1,000 for auditing costs, $2,000 for ambulance service, $1,500 for the Senior Aides program, $400 for a toll-free telephone number to the Madison County Sheriff's Department and $1,500 for street lighting at busy intersections.

The social program for the aged and poor, or the senior van service, was appropriated $17,000, but the program has been turned over to the Agency for Community Transit.

TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS decided to circulate petitions after receiving a letter from George Miller, executive director of the Township Officials of Illinois.

Further cuts may be made in revenue sharing because of the Gramm-Whitman law, which outlines a balanced budget plan. Included in those cuts, Miller said, is the last scheduled revenue sharing payment in October and a reduction in the third payment in July.

"Figures obtained from the Congressional Budget Office prove that general revenue sharing is unfairly targeted for cuts in favor of less worthy programs which aid more politically outspoken groups," Miller's letter said.

EACH YEAR for the last 10 years the nation's 17,000 townships have shared $367,031,022 in revenue sharing funds, Miller said. Illinois' 1,435 townships have shared $31 million annually.

The allocations were reduced this year to $335,833,300 nationally and $28.3 million in Illinois, an 8.5 percent cut, Miller said.

"I think a lot of men are envious of women, because women are hard workers. Men don't want them to get ahead."

Warriors survive scare from Kahoks

By JIM WOODCOCK
COLLINSVILLE Basketball games between Collinsville and Granite City are starting to look familiar. Everytime it appears the talented Warriors have reached Easy Street, the blue-collar Kahoks stir up something to make it interesting in the end.

Friday night in Fletcher Gym, though, the Kahoks did more than just add a little spice to another routine Granite City win — CHS came dangerously close to swiping an almost sure victory from the Warriors, currently the Metro-East's top-rated team.

Trailing 71-63 with 34 seconds to go, CHS started to chisel away. Then suddenly, with 12 seconds still remaining, the Kahoks were trailing only 73-71.

But the miracle comeback fell shy and the Warriors escaped with a 75-71 Southwestern Conference win. The Granite City win gave the Warriors a 16-4 overall record and a 6-1 mark in conference play.

It was also the Warriors' third win this season over the Kahoks in three tries. This win, though, won't be one Granite City Coach Don Deterding will cherish.

"We didn't play with intelligence throughout the game," he said. "I just got so upset with our players tonight. We did so many unnecessary things out there. And heck, it's the third time we've played them this year."

So it stands to reason that CHS Coach Bob Bone was pleased with his team's effort Friday night, despite the fact the loss dropped the Kahoks below the .500 mark (9-10, 2-4) for the first time this season.

"We played well... we had a lot of players play well for us tonight," Bone said. "We made some mistakes, but we've come a long way close to beating those guys twice now. The thing that's frustrating is

GC game with Flyers now Feb. 21

A conflict in scheduling at East St. Louis has forced the change of a Granite City varsity basketball game.

The Warriors will play at East St. Louis on Friday, Feb. 21 instead of Saturday, Feb. 22 as originally listed.

Tipoff will be at 8 p.m.

The game will be Granite City's final Southwestern Conference game as well as the team's final test before the regionals begin.

We can't seem to get over the hump."

The points scored by the Kahoks was the highest output this season for CHS. Also, for the first time this year the Kahoks had four players in double figures.

But even that kind of an offensive display wasn't enough to solve the sharp-shooting Warriors, who overcame a 17-12 deficit with one minute to go in the first quarter to lead 18-17 after eight minutes.

Collinsville bounced back early in the second quarter to take a 22-18 lead on a basket from John Barberis and a free throw by reserve guard Brad Keene, who finished with a season-high of 11 points.

That would be the final time the Kahoks would lead Friday night, despite the fact the Warriors put CHS in the bonus only 46 seconds into the second quarter.

Granite City cruised out to a 40-31 lead just before the end of the quarter courtesy of perfect shooting from the field by Tom Taylor, who hit on all four of his attempts from inside and added a free throw in the interim.

The Kahoks trimmed the lead to 40-35 by the intermission break, but CHS could have been much better off. In the second quarter the Kahoks were given 14 free throws, but only cashed in on eight occasions.

"John Barberis missed four of them, and normally John is a good free throw shooter," Bone noted. "To beat good people you have to make them."

The Kahoks crept back in the third quarter to tie the Warriors 44-44 with 5:20 to go in the period, but Granite City found a potent weapon in post man Chris Viezer.

While the Kahoks kept a close eye on Granite City's three-guard arsenal, Viezer made room for himself underneath and came up with six points in the quarter to help the Warriors take a 56-52 lead after three quarters.

But Taylor fouled out just before the end of the quarter, and he was leading the Warriors in scoring at the time with 17 points.

"We were in trouble then," Deterding said. "We started shooting 20-footers. That's our game when you make them. We needed to be more patient."

Despite the loss of Taylor and Viezer playing with four fouls, the Warriors stayed in front of CHS for all of the fourth quarter. But the Warriors did come precariously close to blowing the lead in the waning seconds of the contest.

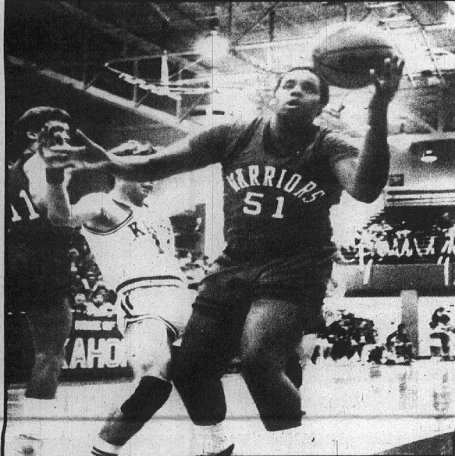

After Jamie Hogan hit two free throws to put the Warriors in front 71-63 with 34 seconds to go, Keene hit two free tosses and then stole the inbound pass and immediately clicked on a difficult layup to narrow the lead to 71-67.

Tim Hogan then hit two free throws to put Granite ahead 73-67, but Viezer hurt his team when he was slapped with a technical foul after a scuffle with Stephens at the lane after the second free throw.

Stephens hit twice from the free throw line, and Bob Range (high scorer for CHS with 24 points) took the inbound pass and sank a 15-footer while being triple-teamed to pull CHS to within two points.

The Warriors were successful in bringing the ball upcourt, though, and Tim Hogan hit both ends of the bonus after being fouled with eight seconds left to seal the win.

GRANITE CITY'S Tom Taylor breaks free under the basket to score two of his 17 points against Collinsville Friday night.

MSCHA playoffs ready to begin

The St. Louis area's version of the Stanley Cup Playoffs will begin this week when the MidStates Club Hockey Association playoffs get under way.

Twenty of the league's 28 teams will be involved in the playoffs, which will culminate with semifinal and final round play at the St. Louis Arena.

The Granite City Warriors have clinched a spot in the playoffs and will be paired with either McCluer North or Hazelwood East in the first round. There are four divisions in the MSCHA, and the playoffs are set up this way:

The four division champions receive a first-round bye while the second place team in each division plays the third place team from the same division in a two-game, total goals round. That is, two wins or a victory and a tie by one team clinches that round. In the event of a split, total goals scored in the two games decide the winner.

Meanwhile, the next eight teams in league point totals are taken as wild card teams and play each other in a one-game playoff. The wild card team with the most points plays the eighth highest team and so on. The four winners of that round then take on the division champs in a one-game round.

Cougars win again

By AL BARNES

Staff Writer

EDWARDSVILLE. Gangland shootouts used to be very common affairs in Chicago, particularly during the Roaring Twenties and Prohibition days.

Two young men, both from Chicago, exchanged shots — basketball shots, that is — Wednesday night as Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville turned back a stubborn battling team from Quincy College, 83-78.

The victory was the ninth straight for the Cougars (now 14-5), the longest streak since Larry Graham took over as coach last year. Sherrill Hanks' Quincy quintet dropped to 14-8.

The 83-78 score was the identical score by which the Cougars defeated Quincy up north last week. The Hawks, however, still lead the Cougars in the series between the schools, 11-6.

But SIU's victory Wednesday marked the first time the Cougars have beaten Quincy twice in the same season.

But back to the Wednesday night shootout. It was between the Cougars' John Edwards, who led both teams in scoring with 32 points, and Quincy's Nwaogwugu, who poured in 21 points, mostly on towering shots. Edwards attended Thornridge, while Nwaogwugu went to Lindblom High.

Edwards, a junior college transfer, is fast becoming a big favorite with SIU fans who are really enjoying the exciting basketball Graham has his charges playing. Over the past three years Edwards has been an individual high for any Cougar this season. He is also cruising along with a 22-point average and is by far the team's best rebounder with 11.9 per game.

The Cougars' next big test is Saturday's clash against the McKendree Bears, whom they edged by one point at Lebanon early in the season.

SIU's Stearns added to classic meet

Steve Stearns, a two-time NCAA Division II All-American from SIU-Edwardsville, will participate in the East-West All-Star Classic wrestling meet.

Stearns, a senior from Oak Lawn, will join Cougar teammates Tim Wright and Alan Grammer at the classic.

The meet will be held Feb. 3 at Oklahoma State University at Stillwater.

Stearns, a 134-pounder, was given a berth after Paul Clark of Clarion University was forced to withdraw because of an injury.

Over the past three years Stearns has won 107 matches for the SIU squad.

SIUE joins Oklahoma as the only two schools to with three representatives in the All-Star Classic. Iowa State, Iowa and Syracuse each will send two wrestlers to the meet. Wright, who was an alternate at last year's classic.
